NOTE.

The 1916 edition of the Catalogue of the Officers and Graduates of Columbia University is the sixteenth which has been published. The first was issued in 1774, and subsequent editions appeared in 1815, 1826, 1836, 1844, 1865, 1868, 1871, 1876, 1882, 1888, 1894, 1900, 1906 and 1912.

The present Edition has been compiled by Mr. W. J. Maxwell under the direction of a Committee appointed by the Trustees of the University. He has communicated with all graduates of the University whose addresses could be ascertained, and every effort has been made to secure complete records of changes of address and of deaths of alumni. Much information has been obtained regarding alumni that has not heretofore been included. The office of the Alumni Council has been of great assistance.

A catalogue of this character cannot be strictly up-to-date. Though all changes have been noted to the time of going to press, doubtless mistakes have been made, and any one discovering an error will render a favor by calling attention to the fact in a note addressed to the Committee at the University.

HISTORICAL NOTE

1754

A royal charter to "The Governors of the College of the Province of New York in the City of New York in America," passed the seals October 31. The Rev. Samuel Johnson, D.D., was elected President, in anticipation of the granting of the charter, and was at first sole instructor. The first class met for instruction July 17 in the school house of Trinity Church.

1755

An additional charter passed the seals May 30, providing for the appointment of a Professor of Divinity of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church.

A device for the College seal was adopted, the same in all respects, except the name, as that now used.

1756

The corner-stone of King's College was laid July 13. The building stood on what is now Park Place, near West Broadway.

1758

The first Commencement was held in St. George's Chapel on Wednesday, June 21, when the first degrees were conferred.

1760

The first building of King's College was completed and the students began to lodge and mess therein.

1767

The Faculty of Medicine was established.

1776-1784

In April, 1776, at the request of the Committee of Safety, the College was prepared for the reception of the Continental troops the students were dispersed and the books and apparatus were removed to the City Hall. During this interval the exercises of the College were suspended.

1784

An Act was passed confirming the royal charter, but changing the name of the corporation to Columbia College, and placing the College under the charge of the Regents of the University (Laws 1784, chapter 51).

1787

An Act was passed reconfirming the royal charter designating the corporation "The Trustees of Columbia College in the City of New York," and appointing trustees to manage the same (Laws 1787, chapter 82).

1792

The Medical Faculty was reestablished.

1793

A Course in Law was established.

1810

The charter was amended and again re-enacted (Laws 1810, chapter 85).

1812

The first scholarships were established, and the right of nomination was conferred upon the Alumni Association.

1813

The Medical Faculty was merged in the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

1857

The College was removed to Madison Avenue and 49th Street.

1858

The School of Law was established.

1860

The College of Physicians and Surgeons became the Medical Department of Columbia College, by agreement.

1864

The School of Mines was established.

1871

Fellowships were first established, viz.: a fellowship in literature, and a fellowship in science.

1880

The School of Political Science was established.

1881

The Department of Architecture was establshed in the School of Mines.

1883

A Course of Collegiate Study for Women was established.

1889

The Course of Collegiate Study for Women was discontinued and Barnard College was incorporated, with the approval of the Trustees of the University.

1890

The Faculty of Philosophy was established.
The University Council was established as an advisory body.
The DaCosta Laboratory of Biology was established.

1891

The College of Physicians and Surgeons was consolidated with the University (Laws 1891, chapter 101; Laws 1894, chapter 97).

1892

The Faculty of Pure Science was established.

The University Council was enlarged and reorganized with certain defined powers.

The Trustees contracted with the New York Hospital for the purchase of four blocks of land on Morningside Heights, bounded by 116th and 120th Streets, Amsterdam Avenue and Broadway, as a new site for the University.

1893

Teachers College became, by agreement, associated with the University, the latter assuming charge of all courses of study leading to a degree, and conferring degrees.

The Columbia University Press was incorporated with the consent of the Trustees.

1894

The University acquired title, on July 1, to its present site on Morningside Heights by purchase from the New York Hospital.

1895

The corner-stone of the Library was laid.

1896

The Trustees authorized the designation of all the departments of instruction and research maintained and managed by the corporation collectively as "Columbia University in the City of New York," and of the "School of Arts" as "Columbia College."

The site was dedicated on May 2, and the corner-stones of Shermerhorn and Fayerweather Halls were laid. On November 4, the corner-stones of Havemeyer Hall and the Engineering Building were laid.

1897

The removal of the University from 49th Street and Madison Avenue to Morningside Heights was effected, and educational work in the new buildings was commenced on October 4.

1899

Teachers College became by agreement a part of the University, the President of the University being ex officio President of the College.

1900

Barnard College became by agreement a part of the University, the President of the University being ex officio President of the College.

A Summer Session of the University was established.

1903

An endowment for a School of Journalism was given to the University.

A Summer Course in Engineering was permanently established at Morris, Connecticut.

The University purchased, on October 1, two blocks of land, known as South Field, adjoining the University Quadrangle, as an addition to its site.

1904

The College of Pharmacy was affiliated with the University, by agreement of March 15, the President of the University being ex officio President of the College.

An Act of Benediction was performed on the site of St. Paul's Chapel, September 28, by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the foundation of the College was celebrated October 24-31; and the corner-stones of the following buildings were laid: St. Paul's Chapel, Hartley Hall, Livingston Hall, and School of Mines.

1905

The corner-stone of Hamilton Hall (Columbia College) was laid September 27.

An agreement was entered into between the Prussian Ministry of Education and the University, providing for an interchange of professors. In accordance with this agreement the Theodore Roosevelt Professorship of American History and Institutions in the University of Berlin, and the Kaiser Wilhelm Professorship of German History and Institutions in Columbia University, were founded.

1906

The Faculty of Fine Arts—comprising the schools of Architecture, Design, and Music—was established, in co-operation with the National Academy of Design.

1907

St. Paul's Chapel was dedicated and Hamilton Hall was formally opened.

1908

The name of the institution by which it has been conferred follows the academic degree. The omission of it indicates that the degree was given by Columbia University.

Numerals (1), (2), (3), (4) after college honors and officers indicate fresh., soph., jun. and senior years, respectively.

A star (*) after a name denotes that the individual is deceased. In every case in which the year of the deceased is known it is indicated at the right.

When an address appears in parenthesis it denotes that it is the last known address.

In case of an alumnus who holds more than one degree from Columbia University, the full record and address are given only under the school from which he was first graduated, the name only being given in the records of subsequent degrees.

In the case of married women graduates, the name under which the degree was received is given first, with the married name immediately following in parenthesis, the same rule applying to the General Index; and in the Locality Index, the graduates are listed under their married name. For example: Class List insertion—May Jane Smith (Mrs. John M. Jones); General Index insertion—Smith, May Jane (Mrs. John M. Jones), b. 06.

This Catalogue includes the names of all graduates of the University, their degrees being indicated as follows.

OFFICERS OF INSTRUCTION AND ADMINISTRATION

The following list includes in alphabetical order the names of all persons appointed by the Trustees since the foundation of King's College in 1754, with the exception of those appointed only for the Summer Session or for Extension Teaching. The record includes only those appointments in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Barnard College, Teachers College, and the College of Pharmacy in effect during the period of union with Columbia University. Furthermore, as the junior officers in Teachers College and the College of Pharmacy and the clinical assistants at the College of Physicians and Surgeons are not appointed by the Trustees of Columbia College, their names and records do not appear in the list. In the case of those officers who hold degrees from this institution, the first degree only will be indicated, further information being available later in the volume under the course and year to which reference is thus made. In the case of officers who do not hold Columbia degrees, the academic records are given here in so far as possible. In many cases, however, the Committee has been unable to obtain this information, and it is requested that any further details which may be known to readers of the volume be forwarded to the Committee.

Those who are interested in the historical development of the several professorial chairs and departments of instruction should consult also the General Catalogue, editions of 1900 and 1906, in which there are separate historical records for each grade of instruction and for each professorship. Considerations of space have, unfortunately, rendered it impossible to reproduce the record in the present volume.

The abbreviations used are as follows:

Adj., Adjunct
Asst., Assistant
Assoc., Associate
Demonstr., Demonstrator
Emer., Emeritus
Instr., Instructor
Lect., Lecturer
Res., Resigned
Ret., Retired (term expired)

The present system of academic grades was adopted in December, 1890. Previously the terms Assistant, Tutor, Lecturer, and Instructor, were used more or less interchangeably,
